

Advantages of ICON Signals

5 reasons a business should invest in ICON Signals

1

Security — “Peace of Mind”

Nothing is more important for your organization than knowing your people and technology are protected. Signals keeps an eye on what is happening 24/7 and achieves faster emergency detection, alerting and responsiveness.

2

Mitigate Loss — “Early Detection Reduces Risk of Loss”

With the ability to monitor any device, incident, or “what if scenario,” no matter how small or large, Signals is on the watch for you. Its ability to “see” what people cannot gives you the power of knowledge in a timely manner. Signals not only helps minimize physical loss but also loss of “business continuity.”

3

Choice — “Choose Your Own Way”

Signals is designed to work with your company’s current technology infrastructure. It can be deployed within your physical site or sites, or in the cloud. Customize Signals to monitor your unique environment and send alerts to the groups and devices that make the most sense for your organization.

4

Unified Notification — “Cover Your Assets”

Signals has the capability to work within your existing environment with the technology that’s already in place. Designed to monitor and alert using standard protocols, Signals can serve as a centralized alerting platform that unifies alerts from existing systems while providing more flexibility and options for protecting all of your assets.

5

Dependable — “Always Make the Right Call”

Many times the speed of communication and the type of communication will determine how quickly one can react. You can depend on Signals 24/7 to continuously monitor and effectively alert the people that need to know when something changes. Signals generates critical alerts in real time via voice, email, text, PC applications and even intelligent Bots.
